Oundle School

The Corporation of Oundle School

The Corporation of Oundle School, a registered charity, was founded to provide an education of the highest class and this remains its primary objective. The Corporation has responsibility for Oundle School, Laxton Junior School, Oundle School Enterprises Limited and the Oundle School Foundation.

Oundle School has its origin in a grammar school founded in 1556 by Sir William Laxton, who was Master of the Worshipful Company of Grocers and Lord Mayor of London in 1544. The Grocers' Company is one of the oldest Livery Companies of the City of London and ranks second in the order of precedence. Under the terms of the will of Sir William Laxton, the Grocers' Company continues to demonstrate its support for Oundle School and Laxton Junior School (the Schools) through the provision of bursaries and grants.

Oundle School and Laxton Junior School

Oundle School has long been associated with the very best of modern independent education, especially boarding. It takes seriously its responsibility to pupils so that they can emerge as decent, open-minded adults; ambitious about what they can go on to achieve and contribute. 1140 pupils are on roll at the School, of whom 840 are full boarders.

Laxton Junior School is a day school of 260 pupils from Reception to Year 6, located in the heart of Oundle.

A team of around 800 staff, both academic and support, ensure an education of the highest standard is in place across the Schools with the efforts of the whole team focused on this fundamental aim.

Oundle Today

The Corporation of Oundle School is a rewarding and exciting place to work. We are proud of our staff and we value the contribution that every employee makes to the life of both Schools and our pupils.

We are fortunate in our location at the heart of a beautiful market town, not least because for over 450 years the School and town have been part of the same community. The town itself is home to a buzz of activity, from local farmers' markets and food traders to antique dealers and an independent brewery, all flanked by numerous shops, restaurants and cafes, many of which span decades of family tradition. There is a spirited cultural life, with music, literature and food festivals as well as extensive sports and social clubs for both young and old. Barnwell Country Park is within easy walking distance, while the River Nene and the surrounding countryside offer wonderful walks and outdoor pursuits.

Oundle School and Laxton Junior School are proud to be equal opportunity employers and we welcome applications from all. We are committed to the elimination of unconscious bias, promoting an ethos of inclusion, respect for others and celebrating diversity in all its forms throughout the School community.

THE SCHOOL IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES EMPLOYER

Employment Information

The role is subject to a six-month probationary period. On completion, you will be expected to participate in the School's appraisal system.

All members of staff are appointed to the School as a whole and may reasonably be asked to undertake similar or related duties in a department or team other than that to which they were originally appointed, or for any subsidiary company.

The School is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people, and expects all staff to share this commitment. All staff appointed to the School are required to be checked through the Disclosure and Barring Service, and to provide evidence of identity, evidence of their entitlement to work in the United Kingdom, and evidence of qualifications deemed essential to the role, or declared on their application form.

Expectations

In general a Matron is expected to be available to deal with both routine matters and emergencies as they arise (including overnight); it is therefore not possible to define specific working hours per week. However, Matrons may expect their working hours per week to be no fewer than 45 and this may be exceeded from time to time. There will be times of significant and intense activity and times when Matron is less busy and it is therefore generally accepted that over the course of a Term the working hours even out to an acceptable level.

Matrons are expected to attend meals i.e. breakfast, lunch and dinner and to provide three surgeries a day at times agreed with their Hsm. During the remainder of the day, Matrons are free to organise their workload and rest breaks accordingly in agreement with the Hsm. It is recommended that Matron takes a break during the morning, afternoon and evening session with prep time identified as a reliable slot in which downtime can be taken.

One 30 hour period off is given per week in Term time. This is a set day off which is decided between the Hsm, and the Deputy Head Pastoral. If, due to the needs of the House, Matron is required to work during any period which would otherwise be a rest period or rest break, then the School undertakes that an equivalent period of rest may be taken whenever possible. The Hsm will agree with the Matron the timing and duration of the compensatory rest.

Please note that you will be required to use your own car for the requirements of the role. You are covered under the School's "occasional business use" policy for insurance purposes for occasional travel on School business within Oundle and to other locations e.g. hospitals for medical appointments. The School considers it good practice for Matrons to ensure that they also have business use cover with their own insurance policy as a back-up should they adopt a pattern of usage which is out of line with the standard expectations of the role and more than occasional for any reason. Travel expenses will be paid in accordance with the School policy.

- Start date: 5 January 2026.
- Contract: Permanent.
- Working weeks: This role is to work Term time only, which is 35 weeks per annum (paid for 39.22 weeks, to include entitlement to holiday pay).

- Life Assurance: 3 x salary, subject to scheme rules.

Working Patterns – Guidance for Resident Matrons, Relief Matrons and Hsms

Teamwork

While the Hsm is the Matron's Line Manager, ideally the two should work in partnership together and should aim to be a mutual support for one another in their complementary roles. In a busy House, difficulties will arise from time to time and working practice will need to be adapted as the situation requires. The recipe for success in such situations will always be good two-way communication and a willingness to listen, to be flexible and to respond creatively to issues as they arise. Given the closeness of the working relationship and the family atmosphere in the Houses, it is vitally important that Matrons communicate any concerns openly and promptly with their Hsms and that the two work together to find solutions to issues as these arise. Sometimes this communication will take place in meetings but the majority of the time this happens informally.

Time Management

Being approachable and accessible is an essential part of Matron's role, and it is recognised that if Matron does not establish clear expectations with the pupils as to availability then the Matron can become a victim of their own success and find that they need to manage the demands on their time very carefully. In addition, the vocational nature of the job will result in periods of intense activity for Matrons from time to time (eg when there is a bout of illness in the House) and it is vital that they work closely with Hsms to ensure that they get adequate compensatory rest breaks and recovery time when this occurs. It is hoped that the guidelines below will help Matrons establish the boundaries which are needed to enable them to manage their time effectively in the boarding environment.

The following duties (Core and Flexible) are expected of all Matrons and Relief Matrons. In times of intense activity the Core duties should be prioritised over the Flexible duties.

Safeguarding and child protection

Matrons are given level 2 child protection training and they must therefore be thoroughly familiar with the School's safeguarding policy and procedures, child protection and School guidelines in undertaking their role.

Core (Fixed) Duties

- Daily 'catch-up' and communication with Hsm and/or Deputy Hsm and Tutors' Meetings (where possible)
- Attendance at meals to identify absences and monitor pupils' eating
- Three surgeries per day
- Appropriate care and supervision for sick pupils
- Setting expectations and monitoring of tidiness
- Keeping up to speed with email and answerphone messages
- Reporting of absences
- Hospital and medical visits
- Communication with parents
- Communication with DTLs and Estates Department
- Routine record keeping and admin tasks
- Parents' Receptions and House Events

Professional Development

- Matrons' Meetings and Matrons' INSET as required (for new Matrons, this also includes the Support Staff Induction)
- Ongoing internal and external development as appropriate, including Reflective Practice

Flexible Duties

- Building relationships with pupils and supporting them by
 - spending unstructured time with them in House
 - supporting them in sport, music, drama etc
 - organising social gatherings (in discussion with Hsms)
- Regular meetings with Hsms as required
- Liaison with the Health Centre as required
- Preparations for House Events
- House Trips (as required)
- Attending Learning for Life or Professional Development sessions
- (Where applicable) mentoring new Matrons

Communication between Matrons and Hsms

- Mealtimes are generally the most efficient way for Hsms and Matrons to keep each other posted and flag up issues for immediate discussion; more structured meetings will be useful for consideration of issues and planning purposes. If there is a need to discuss more sensitive issues, it is always best to arrange a meeting in advance when these issues can be given dedicated time and due consideration. It is anticipated that any concerns can be resolved at House level through appropriate teamwork and communication. However, if concerns persist, then the Deputy Head Pastoral should be involved.

Afternoons and Evenings

- It is expected that Matrons will wish to spend some unstructured time around the House during the day so as to foster good relationships with the pupils and pick up on any issues arising for them during their day. However, the procedure should pupils need an adult in an emergency is published on House Noticeboards and House staff should remind pupils of this regularly.
- Matrons are not expected to supervise pupils during the evening during private reading time from 1930-2100 on Monday to Friday and a quiet hour (agreed with the Hsm) on Saturday and Sunday evening (or equivalent times for the Berrystead), since supervision during this time is the responsibility of the Duty Tutor, reporting to the Hsm. However, it is expected that Matrons will be on call and approachable, if needed, during the evening and that they will put on hot chocolate or other gatherings every so often (schedule to be discussed with the Hsm).

Managing Pupils' Expectations

- Pupils should not disturb Matrons outside surgery times for non-urgent medical assistance. This should be provided in surgery and not at pupils' convenience. Hsms and Matrons should be firm with the pupils on this point and refer them to the times displayed on the surgery door.

Cars

Please note that you will be required to use your own car for the requirements of the role. You are covered under the School's "occasional business use" policy for insurance purposes for occasional travel on School business within Oundle and to other locations e.g. hospitals for medical appointments. The School considers it good practice for Matrons to ensure that they also have business use cover with their own insurance policy as a back-up should they adopt a pattern of usage which is out of line with the standard expectations of the role and more than occasional for any reason. Travel expenses will be paid in accordance with the School policy.

Additional Support

- Working with teenagers is unpredictable and requires judgement, perseverance and a diverse set of skills. Thinking on one's feet, judging how to deal with the unexpected and knowing how to prioritise (i.e. deciding when action is needed and when things can wait) are all fundamental. Communication is vital if the load is to be managed intelligently when it comes to dealing with pressure points and peaks of activity, and effective teamwork between Matron and Hsm is essential.
- If Matrons are under pressure, for example as a result of a bout of illness in the House or a series of protracted hospital visits, Hsms and Matrons should agree compensatory rest breaks. If Hsms deem it necessary, they can also explore the potential for additional resources (e.g. Relief Matron cover via the Relief Matron Co-ordinator or other forms of support agreed on a case by case basis via the Deputy Head Pastoral).

February 2015 (updated February 2020)

Appendix 1 – Summary of Arrangements for Resident Matrons' Time Off

- Matrons should take their 30 hours off without interruption.
- Matrons should feel confident that they are able to have downtime during private reading time from 1930-2100 on Monday to Friday and during a quiet hour (agreed with the Hsm and notified to the Health Centre) on Saturday and Sunday evening (with equivalent times for the Berrystead), since the Tutor/Hsm/Deputy is on duty at this time. However, they may be expected to be on call and approachable. If there is a medical emergency, the Tutor/Hsm/Deputy may try to call upon Matron if she is in her flat or ring her mobile. However, if Matron is not contactable then an appropriate plan for the care of the pupils will be made with the assistance of the Health Centre.
- A flexible approach to downtime should continue to be discussed between Matrons and Hsms as is currently the case - see the existing arrangements for compensatory rest breaks and other avenues of support which are already published in the Resident Matrons' Working Patterns guidance document in the Matrons' Handbook (see above). In addition:
 - If capacity allows, the Health Centre may also be able to provide support to allow Matrons to catch up on sleep after a period of intense activity, provided that the Matron has agreed with the Hsm in advance the steps that need to be taken to ensure that all is covered in the House. Please note that too many requests for the same period of time off will not be able to be accommodated, and should not form any expected break pattern.
 - Matrons should feel able to plan to go away from Oundle at quiet times for short periods if they need to on an occasional basis, provided the Hsm and the Health Centre are made aware in advance. On sports afternoons, or occasions where big games are taking place,

Matron may be required to remain within a 5-20 minutes radius of Oundle. Matrons will be required to give advance notice of any intention to be out of Oundle and out of mobile phone contact, agreeing this with both the Hsm and the Health Centre and indicating when they will be back in range. Obviously, key events (eg sick pupils in their house or 'epidemic') will not allow Matrons to be out of range. Relief Matrons will retain the need to be within 5-20 minutes' radius, given the different nature of their working hours (except where local arrangements have been agreed within the requirements of the School).

- Key to the success of all these arrangements will be for the Matrons, Health Centre and the Hsms to work in partnership, focussing on communication and teamwork and trust. In the event of an emergency, if a Matron is out of range it is expected that other Matrons and/or Relief Matrons will rally round if an urgent hospital visit is necessary.
